University Club.

The men of the Crimson and men of the Blue, together with a number of Princeton graduates, met at the University Club for dinner last night on the eve of the big game between Harvard and Yale. All over the Unit-

Harvard and Yale. All over the United States there were just such dinners held where supporters of each college expressed their sentiment about the outcome of the game.

At the University Club James A. Wilder presided over the jinks and mong the guests of honor was Theodore Armstrong, who is visiting here from New York. The supporters of Yale were confident that the Sons of Eli would be victorious while the Harvard men were just as confident over their favorites. Princetonians took sides.

There was much enthusiasm in the coting for the captains of each team a well as for the individual members to have shown their ability to play be game in the first of the series. There is a very keen interest in the atcome of today's game for on each sam there is a Honolulu boy. In the Harvard lineup there is Atherton ilman, son of hir, and Mrs. Joseph
